

Being a Peacemaker: An Intergenerational Workshop

Saturday March 31, 1:30 - 4:00 pm
Seekers Church
276 Carroll Street, Takoma Park, DC
(directly across from the Takoma Park Metro)

Please join WBPF and Little Friends for Peace for an afternoon of group sharing and dynamic, hands-on activities to learn and strengthen practical peace skills.

Children and teens are especially welcome!

We will focus on peace in our daily lives, resolving conflicts, the qualities of effective peacemakers, and how to become active peacemakers in our families, communities and the world.

No charge, but donations will be appreciated.
Snacks will be provided.

About the Workshop Facilitators:

Mary Joan and Jerry Park have 26 years of experience teaching non-violence skills to young children and adults with playful skill-building activities. They are trained as teachers and family counselors, and started Little Friends for Peace in 1981. (For additional info, see www.lffp.org)

Sponsored by the Washington Buddhist Peace Fellowship
www.wbpf.org - info@wbpf.org

